(a.) By adding to section 7 a provision giving any purchaser of any interest in land from a soldier who shall have made his first payment on the ten-year instalment plan the same rights and privileges as to payment of taxes as such soldier would have had if he had not sold such land.

"(a.) Covers constructed of insulating material may be allowed when equivalent protection is given.

"(b.) Live parts around switchboards, lightning-arresters, and other equipment for which the providing of covers or cases is not reasonably practicable shall be isolated by elevation or provided with suitable permanent enclosures, guards, or screens so arranged as to prevent persons or conducting objects from inadvertently coming or being brought in contact with the live parts. Around electrical machines and switchboards in power plants and sub-stations where accessible to properly qualified persons only, open live parts may under certain conditions be used without guards or screens.

"(c.) Open disconnecting knife-switches may be permitted, provided they are adequately isolated by elevation and operated only by approved insulating-rod with hook.

"2. Subject to the exceptions in the foregoing rule, all knife-switches in circuits of over 150 volts between conductors shall be enclosed in a standard approved steel box or cabinet or of iron-clad type, with switch-handle provided for external operation, and switch shall be operated by this handle only. This rule shall apply immediately to all switches as specified, with the exception that ordinary internally operated switch-boxes and open switches on switchboards and power-distributing panels which are otherwise in good condition may be permitted to remain in operation until such time as replacement by the externally operated type is ordered by the Board.

"3. All externally operated switches shall have the 'on' and 'off' positions distinctly marked.

"4. The doors of all switch-boxes shall be kept closed and only opened after switch-handle is thrown to the 'off' position, with the exception that they may be opened with switch 'on' by properly authorized persons for the purpose of making examination of fuses or switch and where the driven machinery cannot be shut down during such examination.

"5. When any switch is open to allow of repairs or inspection of the equipment supplied, it shall be locked, or as far as practicable secured in the 'off' position, and notice 'not to be closed' attached thereto.

"6. All switches on switchboards and all switch-boxes shall be provided with identification for the circuits or equipment which they control.

"7. Fuses.—All fuses shall be of the regular approved enclosed type only, and shall be of suitable capacity to protect their cables and equipment. All bridging of fuses by wire or other material will be a violation of this rule.

"8. All fuses, except those in two wire circuits operating at not more than 150 volts between conductors and carrying not more than thirty amperes, shall be made 'dead' before handling: Provided, however, that fuses shall always be made 'dead' before handling, regardless of voltage and current, in locations where a person may have to stand on grounded surfaces when re-fusing. This rule requires an individual switch ahead of every fusible cut-out as specified for the purpose of separately disconnecting the fuses of each circuit from all sources of supply. Motors operated by starting devices which do not require separate knife-switches ahead of them may have their running fuses made dead by branch feeder switch, provided same is within convenient access from these fuses.

"9. Combined fuses and switches installed after these rules go into effect shall be arranged with the switch ahead of the fuses. Switches fused at the top and installed previous to these rules going into effect shall be changed on special order of the Board.

"10. Wiring.—All wiring shall be installed and maintained in standard and approved manner. It shall be so protected as to reduce the life hazard as far as practicable; all necessary screens, guards, enclosures, conduits, or isolation by elevation being provided.

"11. Circuit-breakers.—Air-break circuit-breakers shall be so located and shielded that persons will not be burned by the arc produced or have their eyes injured by the glare of the arc.

"12. Parts such as handles or levers which may move suddenly in such a way that persons in the vicinity are liable to be injured by being struck by them shall be guarded.

"13. Electric Furnaces.—Electric furnaces and are welders, where intensely glowing or incandescent arcing parts may be exposed, shall be enclosed so that those parts will not be accessible or visible to unauthorized persons. Suitable protecting screens, hoods, gloves, and other devices shall be provided for and used by the authorized operators or others who must work or come near such parts.
